About Enviromin

Enviromin Projects was founded in 2017 by owner Candis Lubbe with 20 years individual environmental consulting experience. By nature Candis Lubbe is a generalist solopreneur who thrives on a holistic approach to tackling any social or environmental challenge. She shares a broad interest in the mining, waste and energy sectors who naturally considers responsible ways to moderate the risks encountered by your economic enterprise.

Through its network of associations, Enviromin Projects combines project management and administrative expertise with knowledge of environmental legislation to deliver compliant projects. We uniquely integrate business practicability with environmental concerns and legal requirements. "Take the long hard road, its quicker" is a motto that Enviromin Projects is aligned with. Without taking any shortcuts, our core value is taking a minimalistic approach to uniquely integrate business practicability with environmental concerns and legal requirements ensuring that the process is thorough but stream-lined.

Vision & Mission

Vision

Enviromin Projects has a vision to build the next new earth. To harness the abundance of environmental resources by working with developers and technology that focus on waste management innovations, utilising renewable energy resources and align with responsible use of natural resources.

Mission

Enviromin Projects proudly aligns with the 2030 Sustainable Development goals by always putting people first, harnessing abundance and managing environmental resources in peaceful collaboration with all stakeholders.

The mission is to apply a parsimonius approach (simplest, direct route) in guiding project developers through mandatory environmental legal processes.

"I hold a vision of this blue green planet, safe and in balance. At the end of the Fossil Fuel Era, we are emerging to a new reality. We are ready to make the next leap – as momentous as abolishing slavery or giving women the vote."

– Elizabeth May
